This policy has been drawn up in conjunction with the staff, Board of Management, the Parents Association, and students of Coláiste Iascaigh.

3. Rationale for the Code of Behaviour

Coláiste Iascaigh is committed to facilitating each student in reaching their full potential, providing a comprehensive and fulfilling education. A fair, impartial, equitable, transparent and workable Code of Positive Behaviour is required to provide the environment in which each student's needs can be nurtured. Within our school community we aim to promote good behaviour and a positive learning environment, encouraging all staff to model the values which we promote and encourage students to respect and have regard for all members of the school community. Students are responsible for ensuring that their actions do not interfere with fellow students' rights. This Code of Positive Behaviour is designed to assist each student to live up to this responsibility, however, sanctions and/or interventions will be implemented should indiscipline persist.

4. Aim of the Code of Behaviour

The Code of Positive Behaviour should assist in:
- Clarifying what is expected in terms of positive student behavior, promoting courteous behaviour.
- Providing a series of clearly defined steps explaining the sanctions and interventions for unacceptable behaviour.
- Creating a safe and positive environment, accepting all cultures, conducive to teaching and learning, enabling each student to achieve their full potential.
- Promoting responsible citizenship.
- Fostering positive and respectful relationships between all members of the school community.
- Acknowledging the responsibility that each individual has for their own safety and the safety of others.

The Code of Behaviour is formulated in accordance with The Education (Welfare) Act (2000) (23), which requires the Board of Management of the school to draw up and make available a Code of Behaviour to all its students and their respective parents/guardians. The Code has been drafted in accordance with the NEWB guidelines.

All members of the school community are expected to show a commitment to the school's Code of Behaviour. This policy applies to all students during the school day and on all school related activities.

5. Code of Behaviour in supporting a Positive School Culture

The fundamental aim of our Code Positive of Behaviour is to develop positive and caring relationships between students, teachers, parents and the wider community in an environment which nurtures teaching and learning. In doing so, Colaiste Iascaigh endeavors to create a safe, positive, and happy learning environment in which each student can develop and reach their true potential.

In pursuit of this the school:

- Acknowledges the rights of each member of the school community, ensuring effective functioning promoting the safety of all.
- Provides clarity for students about the school's high expectations for their behaviour.
- Is clearly committed to promoting equity.
- Takes particular care of 'at risk' students, using monitoring and early interventions when necessary
- Promotes positive partnership between home and school.
- Fostering a culture of mutual respect and interdependence between the school community and the wider community.
- Supports the role of other community agencies in supporting the educational and wellbeing needs of students.
- Supports students setting and achieving goals that will guide them in moving towards mature and positive behaviour.

6. Rights and Responsibilities in supporting a positive school culture.

Each member of the school community has rights and responsibilities in supporting a positive school culture.
These include:

- Every person in our school has the right to be happy and to be treated with understanding and fairness.

- Every person has the responsibility to treat others fairly and with understanding

- Every person has the right to be treated with respect and politeness.

- Every person has the responsibility to treat others respectfully and politely, respecting others.

- We have the right to be safe.

- We have the responsibility to make the school safe by not threatening, hitting or hurting anyone in any way.

- We have the right to obtain maximum benefit from all lessons and classes.

- We have the responsibility to co-operate with teachers and other students to make sure that lessons proceed and that we keep up to date with the required work. We will not behave to interfere with other students' right to learn. We also have the responsibility to be punctual, to attend school regularly and to take part in activities that will be of benefit to us.

- Every person in the school has the responsibility to respect their environment by cleaning up after themselves and use the bins provided to dispose of litter.

7. Restorative Practice

In supporting a school culture which focuses on mutual respect our initial response and intervention to dealing with challenging behaviour is Restorative Practice. Implementing restorative practices throughout the school:
- develops good relationships,
- prevents the escalation of conflict and
- enables the school to deal creatively with any incidents of behaviours of concern.

The Restorative Practice approach is about early intervention and prevention work which strengthens relationships and provides people with skills for the constructive resolution of conflict and a better understanding of how to avoid conflict in the future. It is a whole school approach, which will support any situation where negative behaviour occurs, and in the long term should help reduce the incidents of challenging behaviour.

Restorative practice gives the opportunity for an individual:
- To tell their side of the story and feel heard.
- To understand better how the situation happened.
- To understand how it can be avoided another time.
- To feel understood by the others involved.
- To find a way to move on and feel better about themselves.

This supports positive behaviour because it:
- Creates an ethos of respect, inclusion, accountability and taking responsibility.
- Creates a commitment to relationships, fairness, and impartiality.
- Encourages collaboration, empowerment, and emotional articulacy.

This supports restoring / repairing relationships which encourages all people to listen to each other's views, enabling all member to be accountable for their actions.
Restorative Practice involves:
- Using restorative language when dealing with issues daily.
- Encouraging student to openly talk about feelings, actions, consequences and moving forward,

- Checking in with students.
- Restorative conversations between students and teachers / prompts when dealing with negative behaviour.
- Tutors/ Year Heads/ Senior Management facilitating a restorative based approach meeting with students.

For Restorative Practice to work there must be:

Clear Expectations – each member must know what is expected by them.

Full Engagement – all members must actively listen to each other.

Clear Explanations – deciding on how to reach a resolution.

If there is not full engagement or a student is unwilling to engage in restorative practice, then the matters will be dealt with in accordance with sanctions mentioned.
